

Helping students be the HERO of their own story

Setting students up for success

The effect of the Covid-19 pandemic on our schools was significant, and often overlooked. The efforts of teachers in adapting to new ways of educating children overnight, whilst maintaining the highest of standards was exemplary.

Tap into their potential

Evidence suggests targeted support is one of the most effective ways to combat the effects of pandemic learning loss and narrow the attainment gap between advantaged and disadvantaged students.
